WET AND DRY ISSUE TO PRECIPITATE WAR IN SAN FRANCISCO

HAYS ANNOUNCES MEMBERSHIP OF EXECUTIVE BODY

Ohio Woman Named On Committee For National Campaign.

SELECT SEVEN WOMEN

Harry M. Daugherty Included On List Of Republicans.

Washington, June 23.—The Republican national campaign will be managed by an executive committee of 21 members, headed by Chairman Hays of the national committee. Seven women have places on the executive committee.

Announcement of its membership, together with the composition of two committees to arrange for the notification of Senator Harding and Governor Coolidge, ended a two-way conference in which Mr. Harding, Chairman Hays and a special subcommittee of the national committee participated.

Harding plans to leave Washington early in July for Marion. He said he hoped to be in Marion July 5, when plans have been made for a celebration in his honor.

Before leaving Washington for New York, Mr. Hays announced that no eastern or western campaign managers were contemplated, as he would substitute himself for both of these former officers, dividing his time between Chicago and New York.

Daugherty a Member.

In the appointment of the executive committee, the subcommittee diverted from the usual practice of confining membership to the national organization and took in Harry M. Daugherty of Columbus, Harding's pre-convention campaign manager. The appointments as announced included only 20 names, but Mr. Hays said the additional member, also not a member of the national committee, would be announced as soon as he could communicate with the prospective appointee.

The party leaders also disregarded precedent in naming seven women as members of the executive committee, and in choosing a woman, Mrs. Harriet Taylor Upton of Ohio, as vice chairman. The membership was announced as follows:

Will Hays, chairman; Mrs. Upton, Ohio; John T. Adams, Iowa; Clarence B. Miller, Minnesota; Fred W. Upham, Illinois; Harry M. Daugherty, Ohio; Mrs. Katherine K. Phillips Edson, California; Mrs. Manley L. Fosseen, Minnesota; Jake L. Hamon, national committeeman from Oklahoma; John W. Hart, Idaho; A. T. Hert, national committeeman from Kentucky; Charles D. Hilles, national committeeman from New York; R. B. Howell, national committeeman from Nebraska; Mrs. Jeanette A. Hyde, Utah; Mrs. Arthur L. Livermore, New York; Senator Boies Penrose, Pennsylvania; Mrs. Corinne Roosevelt Robinson, New York; Mrs. Christie Bardley South, Kentucky; Former Senator John W. Weeks, Massachusetts, and Ralph E. Williams, national committeeman from Oregon.

MOORE MAKES REPLY TO M'COMBS' CHARGE AGAINST PRESIDNET

San Francisco, June 23.—E. H. Moore, manager of the campaign of Governor Cox of Ohio for the Democratic presidential nomination, replied to the charge made by William F. McCombs of New York that the president has been "autocratic" in assumption of authority. He said:

"The surest method of having the Democratic platform make the league of nations the leading issue is for its enemies to attack the president. President Wilson had not only the admiration of the Democratic party, but its entire sympathy in his efforts to advance the cause of humanity. Besides being the titular head of the Democratic party he is also president of the United States, and no man will get anywhere by subjecting him either to open attack or to sneering references."

Bryan Controls Third Of Delegates; Wets Hold the Same.

NOMINEE DOUBTFUL

Nearly Score of Candidates In Field For High Honor.

San Francisco, June 22.—A chicken with its head cut off flopping around in the back yard knows exactly where it is going compared to hosts of Democracy gathering here to select their candidates for the presidency and build their platform.

With two thirds vote necessary for a nomination, instead of only a majority as with the Republicans, the chaos of Chicago pre-convention days has descendel upon San Francisco, bag and baggage, leaving the arriving delegates confused and confounded.

William Jennings Bryan, it is claimed by some, with his 'dry" backing, can prevent the nomination of anybody who doesn't suit him. It will take but 365 votes—a third plus one of the total of 1092 delegates, —to do this.

But, warn the friends of Governor Elward I. Edwards, of New Jersey, lo not overlook the wets. They control at east 365 votes in the convention anl it is asserted in their turn, can prevent the nomination of any candidate unfavorabe to them.

OWEN JOINS BRYAN

Senator Robert L. Owen, of Oklahoma, will form a coalition with W. J. Bryan and precipitate a rough and tumble opposition the moment the cohorts of the administration insist upon an out and out ratification of the league of nations plank. And with not a few delegates behind them, many believe this combination will be able to rally more than a third of the delegates their side thus blocking the selection of a Wilsonian nominee.

Aside from the two thirds rule, now unusually bothersome to the Democrats, the problem of a nominee is warrying them. They are evidently a bit hazy as to the choice of a standard bearer as were the Republicans in Chicago

Counting W. G. McAdoo and President Wilson—and no list of Democratic presidential possibilities is considered by the party men now here to be complete without the names of both—there are pretty nearly a score of candidates in the open or potential, already under consideration.

Alphabetically there are Bryan, Cox, Clark, Cummings, Davis, Edwards, Glass Gerard, Hitchcock, McAdoo, Marshall Meredith, Owen, Palmer, Payne, Simmons and Wilson, to name those most frequently mentioned here

CONFERENCE RESULTS ARE DISAPPROVED IN MANY QUARTERS

Allied Statesmen To Meet At Brussels On July 2.

Paris, June 23.—Dissatisfaction was expressed in various quarters today over the meager results of the inter-allied conference at Boulogne. The allied statesmen will meet again at Brussels on July 2 as a preliminary to the Spa conference, when the issues involved in the German indemnity problem will form the chief subject of discussion.

Pertinax, political editor of the Echo De Paris and the foremost political writer in Europe, says that the statesmen may propose the repudiation of the allies' war debts at the Brussels meeting.

Germany's failure to execute clauses of the treaty of Versailles regarding the delivery of coal to France is being emphasized by the French government representatives and will be considered at Brussels

Before the Boulogne conference broke up it approved the proposals of the military experts for disarmament of Germany, includnig the reduction of Germany's armed forces and future ownership of Germany's destroyed war materials.

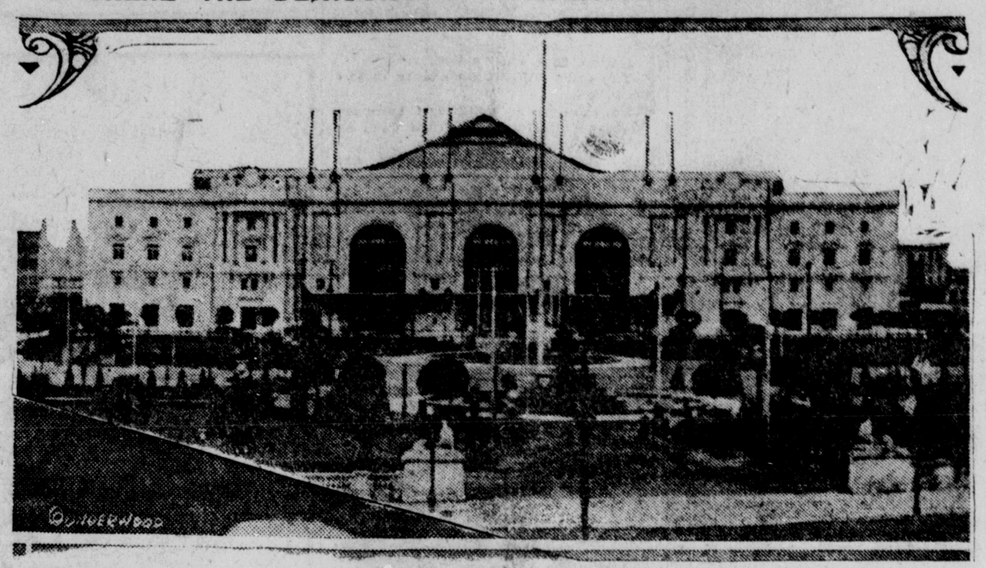

WILSON URGES SPEED

Washington, June 23.— President Wilson today telegraphed the railroad board in Chicago to expedite its report and recmmendations for increased pay for railroad men. The White House announced today. The text of the message was not made public but the White House officials said that the decision would end the present unrest among railroad workers.

DISCRMINATION IS CHARGED

THIRD TERM STAMPEDE FOR WILSON NOW AGITATED BY WOMAN DELEGATE

Los Angeles Woman Urges Naming of Strong Vice Presidential Nominee To Permit Wilson To Retire From Active Duties After Election; Say President Should Be Allowed To Finish War Work.

San Francisco, Cal., June 23.—Possibilities of a stampede for a third term for President Wilson in the Democratic national convention were seen here today by party leaders following the announcement of Miss Mary Foy of Los Angeles that she would cast her vote as a delegate for Woodrow Wilson for the Democratic nominee for president.

Miss Foy, recognized as one of the most able women leaders in the party, was positive in her determination to present the name of the president to the convention. Furthermore, she intends to suggest to the convention that a strong vice presidential candidate be named and that if President Wilson is elected he may retire and turn the office over to the vice president or he may continue to hold office and turn many of the burdens of his office over to the vice president.

'I don't know what the effect of my action will be," Miss Foy said today. "But I have travelled a great deal and have given voice to my views and beliefs, but after the shock, I have found the reaction to be favorable."

"There are two reasons why I desire a third term for the president." continued Miss Foy. First, I believe the president should be vindicated by the people and in the second place, I believe that the president is entitled to finish the war work which he began—I believe he should carry through legislation for reconstruction which has been blocked by the Republican congress.

"I don't believe the people meant to tie the hands of the president in the 1918 elections when they elected a Republican congress, but that it is what they did and they realize it now and I believe they are ready to give the president an opportunity to complete his work.

"I want a strong man for vice president, one such as Homer Cummings. With such a man as vice president, why could not the president turn over many of his duties to the vice president? Of course, it has never been done, but let us smash a few precedents. If the president wanted to retire after his work of reconstruction was completed, I don't see any reason why he should not be able to do so and turn the office over to the vice president.

"I am not going to say that I am the leader of a movement for a third term for President Wilson for that would be presumptious, but you can count on my v[illegible] going to President Wilson and I hope, of course, that I shall be supported."

Miss Foy's announcement caused a considerable stir among Democratic leaders and revived again a story, current in Washington some months ago, that the president desired a third term with a strong vice presidential candidate, in order that he might retire after he had received vindication at the polls.

Miss Foy stated that her proposed action was entirely independent and that she had not consulted any of the party leaders and furthermore she denied that it was any part of a concerted movement.

Miss Foy is a woman of great strength and a powerful orator. If she makes a speech on the floor of the convention in favor of a third term for the president it is certain that she will start a movement which may entirely switch the course of the convention.

HOME COMING DAY AT MARION BRINGS HARDING TO OHIO

Senator's Fellow - Townsmen Prepare Great Welcome.

Washington, June 23.—Home coming day at Marion, Ohio, July 5, is calling Senator Warren G. Harding, the Republican presidential nominee.

"I am trying to arrange my affairs so I can get back to Marion for the celebration," said the senator this morning. Several days ago he announced that he did not expect to be able to go to Marion before July 10 or 12 at the earliest.

Telegrams and letters have reached the senator notifying him that his "home folks" are to be in Marion, July 5 to renew old friendships and he is wanted there. His fellow townsmen are telling him that Marion is preparing to outdo all former welcomes to her sons and daughters.

Senator Harding's return to Marion for the celebration, will be informal. He will go as one of the "home comers" and not as a presidential candidate. He has told his friends in Marion that not until after his formal speech of acceptance on July 22, will he engage in formal public functions or deliver formal messages or speeches as the candidate.

In adhering to this rule the senator is rejecting or postponing daily requests that he receive delegations of Republicans eager to meet him. He is asking that these delegations withhold their proposed visits until he can straighten out details of his campaign and get settled in home at Marion.

RAILROAD WORKERS VOICE OPPOSITION TO YARDMEN'S STRIKE

Columbus Employes Are Unanimous In Disapproval.

Columbus, O, June 23.—Opposition to the yardmen's strike now on in eastern railroad centers has been registered by local railroad maintenance of way workers.

Members of the Columbus organization were unanimous in their decision to continue working and to wait for the decision of the federal railroad labor board. Denouncing all members of congress who voted for the Cummins-Esch railroad act, agreement was reached to try to nullify this law either by action in the courts or by repealing legislation.

UNITED STATES WILL BE REPRESENTED AT BRUSSELS MEETING

Washington, June 23.—The United States probably will be represented at the inter allied conference at Brussels on July 2 by an observer, it was learned at the state department today.

Since the conference is to be devoted primarily to matters of finance, it was thought likely that the secretary of the treasury would be asked to designate a personal representative to attend the sittings.

Various allied statesmen participated in the Boulogne conference, it was stated, have reiterated their requests that this government send a representative to Brussels .

State department officials would make no comment on the statement by Pertinax, political writer of the Echo De Paris, that the allies at the Brussels conference might recommend repudiation of war debts.

POSSES CLOSING IN ON BANDITS ALLEGED GUILTY OF ROBBERY

Two of Gang Are Shot In Revolver Duel With Police.

Burlington, N. J. June 23.—Posses today are believed to be closing in on the third of a trio of motor cycle bandits who held up the pay automobile of the New Jersey Public Service corporation and robbed it of $4,000. Two of the bandits have already been captured after a pistol battle with farmers and business men who joined with the police. One of them was probably fatally injured and a policeman was also shot.

The third bandit is believed to be hiding in a patch of woods near here which will be surrounded by posses. Of the $4,000 stolen when the bandits halted the paycar and 'blackjacked' the driver, $2,300 has been recovered.

PLANS TO FINANCE WOOL GROWERS NOW BEING WORKED OUT

Bills Of Lading Will Be Security For Drafts, Report.

Washington, June 23.—Plans for financing the wool growers until a market for wool is re-established have been worked out at a conference between the growers and the federal reserve board, it was announced by F. R. Marshall of Salt Lake City, secretary of the National Wool Growers' association.

Under the plan as approved by the board, Mr. Marshall said, "a wool grower may ship his wool to one of the usual points of distribution, obtaining from the railroad a bill of lading for the shipment; the grower may then draw a draft against his bank for such an amount as may be agreed upon by the grower and the bank, secured by the bill of lading. The federal reserve act authorizes any member bank to accept a draft secured in this manner at the time of acceptance, provided that the draft matures in not more than six months from the time of acceptance.

"After acceptance such a draft, bearing the indorsement of a member bank, is eligible for rediscount or purchase by a federal reserve bank, provided that it has a maturity of not more than three months from the date of rediscount or purchase."

While the board's statement refers only to acceptances based on bills of lading, Mr. Marshall said, Governor Harding had called attention to the provisions of the federal reserve act as to eligibility for discount of paper secured by warehouse receipts.

REIGN OF TERROR IN IRELAND SPREADING; NEW CLASHES OCCUR

One Killed, Several Wounded In Street Fighting.

PANIC HITS CITY

Women and Children Flee And Attackers Gain Ground.

Belfast, June 23. — One person was killed and several others were wounded in another outbreak of street fighting between Unionists and Sinn Feiers at Lodonderry during the night.

The fresh outburst of hostilities followed a brief lull Tuesday afternoon.

The fighting was particularly violent and covered a wide area of the city. Several buildings in the business district were burned. Sniping increased in intensity late Tuesday and a woman was killed. Fires were started by bomb explosions. British troops that were put on guard around property owned by Unionists were sniped continuously by hidden Sefn Feiners.

Word received from Londonderry a 9:30 said that fighting was in progress at that hour between Sinn Feiners and Unionists from behind baricades surmounted with sandbags. The casualties were reported to be heavy.

There has been much looting at at Londondery during the past 24 hours particularly in buildings occupied by saloons. An attack against the Londonderry college building was repulsed. Irish volunteers were said to have attacked the residential district where many Unionists live and women and children fled in panic.

.... HEAR RIFLE FIRING. ....

A telephone message from a Londonderry suburb early today said that unusually heavy rifle firing had been heard in the city for a period of three minutes succeeded by a significant silence."

The "reign of terror" is apparently spreading. Armed Irish volunteers entered the fray at Londonderry early today.

The Carsonites in this city (the Unionists followers of Sir Edward Carson held a meeting to debate the advisability of marching to Londonderry to help out the Unionists.

The situation here is tense with excitement. It is admitted that the whole Ulster province is on the brink of civil war. The temper of the Ulsterites is shown by the following extract from an editorial in the Northern Whig

"The government seems to be afflicted with creeping paralysis. If it continues as weak as it is at present, Ulster will show that they are strong enough for the task at hand."

General Carter Campbell has slightly more than a battalion under his command but two more battalions were being held in readiness in Belfast for instant use.

Building Where Great Conflagration Is Scene Of Fire.

Baltimore, Md., June 23.—Fire, starting in a building at 36 Hopkins Place, the same place where the great fire of 1898 caused a general alarm to be sent in early today, spread to four adjacent buildings, gave fire fighters a hard battle for several hours and caused a loss which may reach $1,000,000. The building whore the fire started was occupied by a number of wholesale clothing firms.

The fire followed a mysterious explosion. A number of firemen were overcome and received minor injuries.

It was the second disastrous fire in the wholesale district within a space of ten hours, the first blaze starting in the seven story Darby building at Baltimore and Howard streets, causing a loss to property and merchandise estimated at $500,000.

HARDING REPLIES TO SUFFRAGISTS ON INTERFERENCE

Can Not Attempt To "Force Any State to Hasten Action."

VERY SYMPATHETIC

Chairman Of Suffrage Delgation Expresses Disappointment.

Washington, June 23.—In reply to a request for a statement of his position on the suffrage question, Senator Harding declared to a group of suffragists that while he could not, with propriety, attempt to force any state to hasten action on the federal suffrage amendment, he would recommend ratification should any state officially seek his opinion.

The suffragists, numbering 26 from 21 states, through their spokesman, Miss Alice Paul, chairman of the National Woman's party, in presenting their request made veiled threats of throwing their support to a third party unless ratification of the suffrage amendment was completed through action of a Republican state legislature.

Miss Paul in a statement later said her delegation was "deeply disappointed with Senator Harding's position." The meeting took place at the senator's office in the capitol and lasted more than an hour. The suffragists had gone to the capitol with prepared statements, but the senator's action in presenting his views first caused them to change their plans and simply state their request for a definition of the nominee's position. In reply Senator Harding said:

Harding's Reply.

"I need not tell you of my interest in the consummation of the woman's suffrage. I voted for it in the senate, and a vote records a senator's purpose quite as faithfully as anything he may do.

"Nothing would please me more than to have ratification made effective to give American womanhood full participation in the elections of next November. This desire, sin[illegible] spoken, does not conflict with t[illegible] termination that I could not wit[illegible] priety attempt to force any sta[illegible] ecutive to hasten action in violatio[illegible] of his own sense of duty.

"There is a point at which full executive authority may approach a trespass on the rights of states and I would not want to trespass if I bore the commission of authority, and I realize full well that, so far, I am only a party nominee. In the latter capacity, I would not wish my party to believe me inclined to trespass or to assume to wield a club. If any state executive should ask my opinion about extraordinary efforts to consummate suffrage, I frankly will commend the thing you desire, but I can not impose a demand, though I personally hope to see women's sfrage and women's full participation established at an early date."

BUTLER APOLOGIZES FOR WOOD ATTACK

Cincinnati June 23.—William Cooper Procter, who directed General Leonard Wood's campaign for the Republican presidential nomination, received a telegram of apology from Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia university, New York, for Butler's criticism of Wood's campaign methods. "I am convinced that my words, spoken under strain, turmoil and fatigue of the Chicago convention," he said, "and, in short, revolt against the power of money in politics, were both unbecoming and unwarranted, and that I should and do apologize to each and every one who felt hurt by what I said."

FIRE TRUCK HITS AUTO AND WOMAN IS KILLED

Baltimore, June 23—Fire which started today on the fourth floor of a building occupied by Blumberg Brothers Co., and Goldheim & Sons, swept the three upper floors, causing damage estimated at $300,000. UNITED STATES WILL BE REPRESENTED AT BRUSSELS MEETING

Washington, June 23.—The United States probably will be represented at the inter allied conference at Brussels on July 2 by an observer, it was learned at the state department today.

Since the conference is to be devoted primarily to matters of finance, it was thought likely that the secretary of the treasury would be asked to designate a personal representative to attend the sittings.

Various allied statesmen participated in the Boulogne conference, it was stated, have reiterated their requests that this government send a representative to Brussels .

State department officials would make no comment on the statement by Pertinax, political writer of the Echo De Paris, that the allies at the Brussels conference might recommend repudiation of war debts.

POSSES CLOSING IN ON BANDITS ALLEGED GUILTY OF ROBBERY

Two of Gang Are Shot In Revolver Duel With Police.

Burlington, N. J. June 23.—Posses today are believed to be closing in on the third of a trio of motor cycle bandits who held up the pay automobile of the New Jersey Public Service corporation and robbed it of $4,000. Two of the bandits have already been captured after a pistol battle with farmers and business men who joined with the police. One of them was probably fatally injured and a policeman was also shot.

The third bandit is believed to be hiding in a patch of woods near here which will be surrounded by posses. Of the $4,000 stolen when the bandits halted the paycar and 'blackjacked' the driver, $2,300 has been recovered.

PLANS TO FINANCE WOOL GROWERS NOW BEING WORKED OUT

Bills Of Lading Will Be Security For Drafts, Report.

Washington, June 23.—Plans for financing the wool growers until a market for wool is re-established have been worked out at a conference between the growers and the federal reserve board, it was announced by F. R. Marshall of Salt Lake City, secretary of the National Wool Growers' association.

Under the plan as approved by the board, Mr. Marshall said, "a wool grower may ship his wool to one of the usual points of distribution, obtaining from the railroad a bill of lading for the shipment; the grower may then draw a draft against his bank for such an amount as may be agreed upon by the grower and the bank, secured by the bill of lading. The federal reserve act authorizes any member bank to accept a draft secured in this manner at the time of acceptance, provided that the draft matures in not more than six months from the time of acceptance.

"After acceptance such a draft, bearing the indorsement of a member bank, is eligible for rediscount or purchase by a federal reserve bank, provided that it has a maturity of not more than three months from the date of rediscount or purchase."

While the board's statement refers only to acceptances based on bills of lading, Mr. Marshall said, Governor Harding had called attention to the provisions of the federal reserve act as to eligibility for discount of paper secured by warehouse receipts.

REIGN OF TERROR IN IRELAND SPREADING; NEW CLASHES OCCUR

One Killed, Several Wounded In Street Fighting.

PANIC HITS CITY

Women and Children Flee And Attackers Gain Ground.

Belfast, June 23. — One person was killed and several others were wounded in another outbreak of street fighting between Unionists and Sinn Feiers at Lodonderry during the night.

The fresh outburst of hostilities followed a brief lull Tuesday afternoon.

The fighting was particularly violent and covered a wide area of the city. Several buildings in the business district were burned. Sniping increased in intensity late Tuesday and a woman was killed. Fires were started by bomb explosions. British troops that were put on guard around property owned by Unionists were sniped continuously by hidden Sefn Feiners.

Word received from Londonderry a 9:30 said that fighting was in progress at that hour between Sinn Feiners and Unionists from behind baricades surmounted with sandbags. The casualties were reported to be heavy.

There has been much looting at at Londondery during the past 24 hours particularly in buildings occupied by saloons. An attack against the Londonderry college building was repulsed. Irish volunteers were said to have attacked the residential district where many Unionists live and women and children fled in panic.

.... HEAR RIFLE FIRING. ....

A telephone message from a Londonderry suburb early today said that unusually heavy rifle firing had been heard in the city for a period of three minutes succeeded by a significant silence."

The "reign of terror" is apparently spreading. Armed Irish volunteers entered the fray at Londonderry early today.

The Carsonites in this city (the Unionists followers of Sir Edward Carson held a meeting to debate the advisability of marching to Londonderry to help out the Unionists.

The situation here is tense with excitement. It is admitted that the whole Ulster province is on the brink of civil war. The temper of the Ulsterites is shown by the following extract from an editorial in the Northern Whig

"The government seems to be afflicted with creeping paralysis. If it continues as weak as it is at present, Ulster will show that they are strong enough for the task at hand."

General Carter Campbell has slightly more than a battalion under his command but two more battalions were being held in readiness in Belfast for instant use.

Baltimore, Md., June 23.—Fire, starting in a building at 36 Hopkins Place, the same place where the great fire of 1898 caused a general alarm to be sent in early today, spread to four adjacent buildings, gave fire fighters a hard battle for several hours and caused a loss which may reach $1,000,000. The building where the fire started was occupied by a number of wholesale clothing firms.

The fire followed a mysterious explosion. A number of firemen were overcome and received minor injuries.

It was the second disastrous fire in the wholesale district within a space of ten hours, the first blaze starting in the seven story Darby building at Baltimore and Howard streets, causing a loss to property and merchandise estimated at $500,000.

Can Not Attempt To "Force Any State to Hasten Action."

VERY SYMPATHETIC

Chairman Of Suffrage Delgation Expresses Disappointment.

Washington, June 23.—In reply to a request for a statement of his position on the suffrage question, Senator Harding declared to a group of suffragists that while he could not, with propriety, attempt to force any state to hasten action on the federal suffrage amendment, he would recommend ratification should any state officially seek his opinion.

The suffragists, numbering 26 from 21 states, through their spokesman, Miss Alice Paul, chairman of the National Woman's party, in presenting their request made veiled threats of throwing their support to a third party unless ratification of the suffrage amendment was completed through action of a Republican state legislature.

Miss Paul in a statement later said her delegation was "deeply disappointed with Senator Harding's position." The meeting took place at the senator's office in the capitol and lasted more than an hour. The suffragists had gone to the capitol with prepared statements, but the senator's action in presenting his views first caused them to change their plans and simply state their request for a definition of the nominee's position. In reply Senator Harding said:

Harding's Reply.

"I need not tell you of my interest in the consummation of the woman's suffrage. I voted for it in the senate, and a vote records a senator's purpose quite as faithfully as anything he may do.

"Nothing would please me more than to have ratification made effective to give American womanhood full participation in the elections of next November. This desire, sir, spoken, does not conflict with termination that I could not with priety attempt to force any state ecutive to hasten action in violation of his own sense of duty.

"There is a point at which full executive authority may approach a trespass on the rights of states and I would not want to trespass if I bore the commission of authority, and I realize full well that, so far, I am only a party nominee. In the latter capacity, I would not wish my party to believe me inclined to trespass or to assume to wield a club. If any state executive should ask my opinion about extraordinary efforts to consummate suffrage, I frankly will command the thing you desire, but I can not impose a demand, though I personally hope to see women's sfrage and women's full participation established at an early date."

BUTLER APOLOGIZES FOR WOOD ATTACK

Cincinnati, June 23.—William Cooper Procter, who directed General Leonard Wood's campaign for the Republican presidential nomination, received a telegram of apology from Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia university, New York, for Butler's criticism of Wood's campaign methods. "I am convinced that my words, spoken under strain, turmoil and fatigue of the Chicago convention," he said, "and, in short, revolt against the power of money in politics, were both unbecoming and unwarranted, and that I should and do apologize to each and every one who felt hurt by what I said."

THE PRINCE OF WALES
June 23, 1894

Edward Albert, Prince of Wales, son of George V and heir to the throne of England and the Empire of India, was born at White Lodge Richmond, ngland, in 1894. He was brought up in a style simpler and more democratic than that in which most of our rich American children are raised and he was given an unusually thorough education, mostly in the company of one of his younger brothers.

There are many amusing stories told about the childhood of this simple mannered, good natured, young prince. On the occasion of his father's coronation, while riding to the ceremony in an open carriage he attempted to straighten his sister hat, which had fallen over one side of her head. When the small princess objected, he calmly slapped her face and put her hat on straight to the amusement of all London.

When the war broke out he begged for active service but was refused because he was the heir. Their are many stories however, of times when he broke away from his older officers and went over the top with his own troops and it is supposed that he did more active fighting than officials will admit. On his visit to America last fall strengthen friendly relations between United States and England.

GREAT REMOVAL SALE

Moving from one house to another is bad enough, but moving a store from one location to another is ten times worse. Yet that is what we are compelled to do and that, too, right in the midst of a very busy season.

We have purchased the lease and Furniture Stock of LeRoy Brower and our present lines are to be combined with that stock on July 1st.

The new location will be 36-38 W. Main street. But our present stock must be greatly reduced. The market prices of today and the small amount of available merchandise does not warrant a sale of any sort but extra expense and trouble of moving would be no small item.

THE LOVABLE ETHICS OF THE ROTARY CLUB, FOUNDED ON THE GOLDEN RULE.

We have a number of secret societies in Xenia, but have not the Rotary Club, one which is now quite popular. It is just at present holding its annual convention at Atlantic City. Our Xenia born and bred Mr. Russell F. Greiner, of Kansas City, is an Ex-President of the National Club, and has just been to Europe as a representative of the order from this country. We have always understood the principles of the order to emphasize the brotherhood of man. Just now we find in the proceedings being published in connection with the Atlantic City meeting the standard ethics of the order. We believe many of our readers will be interested in them, as follows:

One Rotary's spokesman emphasized that body's code of ethics for all of its 400,000 members in an impressive study of cause and effect in respect to character-building, placing stress upon the fact that men are not what circumstances or environment make them but what they make themselves. He cited this prelude to the eleven points of the Rotarian's code for guidance in his daily life:

"My business standards shall have in them a note of sympathy for our common humanity. My business dealings, ambitions and relations shall always cause me to take into consideration my highest duties as a member of society. In every position in business life, in every responsibility that comes before me, my chief thought shall be to fill that responsibility and discharge that duty so when I have ended each of them I shall have lifted the level of human ideals and achievements a little higher than I found it. In view of this fundamental in a code of trade ethics for international Rotary are the following principles:

"The eleven points of Rotary's code of service were defined as, first, to consider my vocation worthy as affording me a distinct opportunity to serve society; second, to improve myself, increase my efficiency, and enlarge my service; third, to realize, I am a business man and ambitious to succeed, but to desire no success not founded on highest justice and morality; fourth, to hold exchange of my goods, service and ideas for profit is legitimate, provided all parties in the exchange are benefited; fifth, to use my best endeavors to elevate the standards of business and to so conduct my affairs that others in my vocation may find it wise and profitable and conducive to happiness to emulate my example; sixth, to conduct my business so as to give equal to or better than my competitor; seventh, to understand one of the greatest assets of a business or professional man is his friends; eighth, to hold that true friends demand nothing of one another and that any abuse of friendship for profit is foreign to the spirit of Rotary; ninth, to consider no success legitimate which is secured by taking unfair advantage of opportunities in the social order denied others; tenth, to be not more obligated to a brother Rotarian than to every other man in human society, and, eleventh, to hold believing in the universality of golden rule that society best holds together when equal opportunity is accorded all men in the natural resources of this planet."

THE SIMPLE LIFE OF THE "SMALL TOWN" A REFRESHING TONIC TO THE CITY FLAT DWELLERS.

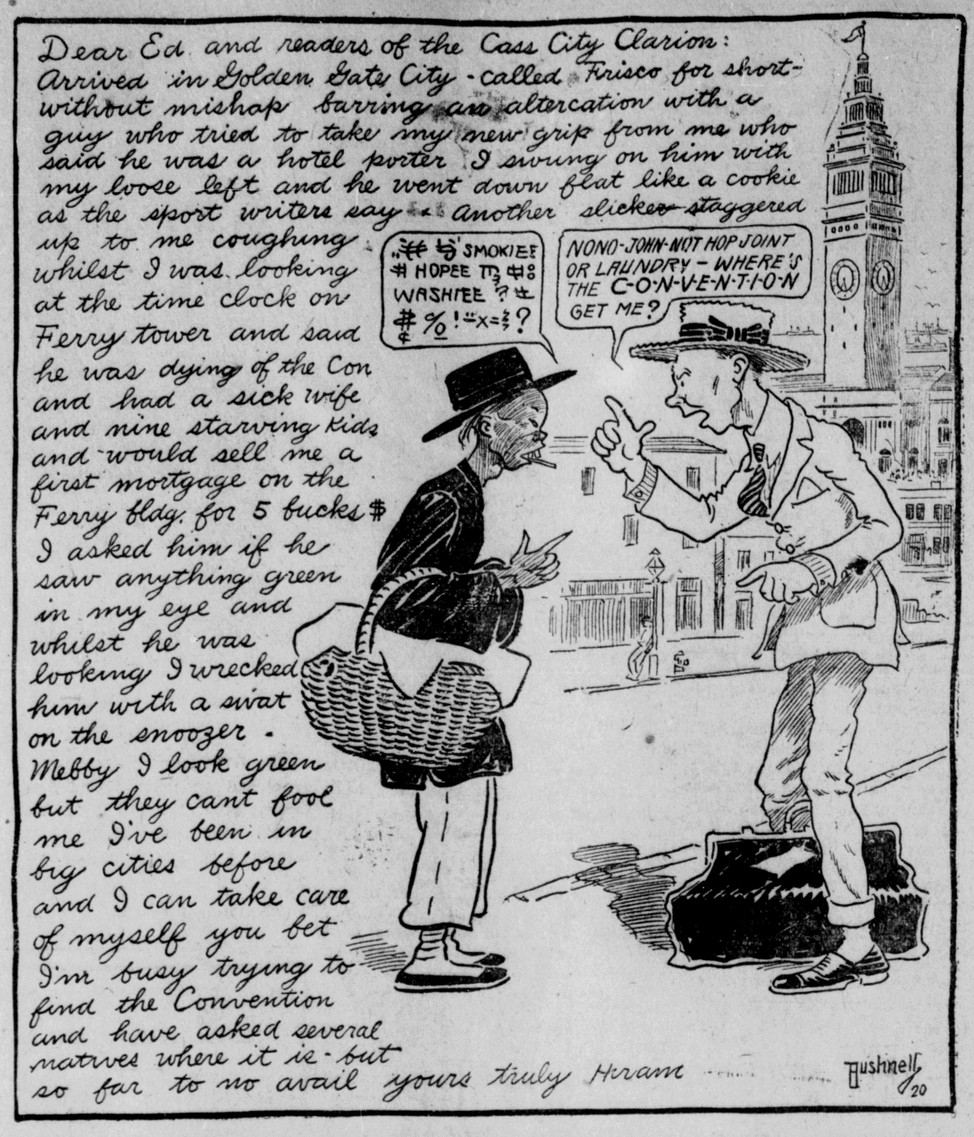

Writing from the heart of Gotham one finds the nomination of Senator Harding already has produced a profound respect for the "small town." In fact, turning the national political spotlight upon little Marion, Ohio, has brought immediately into the foreground the thousands of other modest-sized, tree-roofed burgs back of the dust clouds raised by the motor cars rushing along the great and small highways that connect the four points of the American population compass.

"We had been suffering from an overdose of the big city," said Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler. "Senator Harding stepping into the campaign picture focuses attention upon the community life of the small town. We now hear again of silver cornet bands, real Fourth of July oratory and home yards filled with hollyhocks and pansy beds."

Dr. Butler and other shrewd observers of tendencies express the opinion that events of the next few months are going to work small towns up into new stellar headline positions. People of the swollen centers are going to have revealed to them a fresh appreciation of localities where ivy-clad homesteads are still extant and the laughter of romping children is heard up and down green-carpeted lawns.

Through glimpses into the Harding background of Marion hundreds of thousands of big city dwellers are likely to come under the urge of immigration to those smaller centers of wide-front porches, strawberry festivals and old swimming pools. The Harding candidacy is a welcome throw-back to the simple life, a refreshing tonic to flat dwellers, and tube strap hangers who caught in the eddies of metropolitan currents had forgotten the smoke houses, the corn crib and the old gray mare of memory-land.

HOME BREW.

I made a keg of home brewed ale, with raisins, yeast and water, and now I'm in the county jail, where reason's prone to totter. I made five gallons of the truck to show that I could do it; I drank three quarts and ran amuck, and here I am, beshrew it! My head is out of shape on top, my brow is swelled and hilly, for there the outraged village cop assailed me with his billy When I get out, some five years hence (this fact I put some stress on), I'll try to brew no Old Stone Fence—I will have learned my lesson. It does not pay to fool the law, in measure small or greater, for punishment is all you draw—it gets you soon or later. A lot of laws give me a pain, I'm tempted to defy them; but in the hours when I am sane I guide my footsteps by them. We cannot pick and choose the laws that we'll observe and cherish; we can't approve one with our jaws, and say the next must perish. We have to take them as they come, and not behave like quitters, and if we find that some are bum, we bravely take our bitters. The law's against all forms of booze, and when my stretch is ended, I will compound no home made brews of yeast and raisins blended.

THE LOVABLE ETHICS OF THE ROTARY CLUB, FOUNDED ON THE GOLDEN RULE.

We have a number of secret societies in Xenia, but have not the Rotary Club, one which is now quite popular. It is just at present holding its annual convention at Atlantic City. Our Xenia born and bred Mr. Russell F. Greiner, of Kansas City, is an Ex-President of the National Club, and has just been to Europe as a representative of the order from this country. We have always understood the principles of the order to emphasize the brotherhood of man. Just now we find in the proceedings being published in connection with the Atlantic City meeting the standard ethics of the order. We believe many of our readers will be interested in them, as follows:

One Rotary's spokesman emphasized that body's code of ethics for all of its 400,000 members in an impressive study of cause and effect in respect to character-building, placing stress upon the fact that men are not what circumstances or environment make them but what they make themselves. He cited this prelude to the eleven points of the Rotarian's code for guidance in his daily life:

"My business standards shall have in them a note of sympathy for our common humanity. My business dealings, ambitions and relations shall always cause me to take into consideration my highest duties as a member of society. In every position in business life, in every responsibility that comes before me, my chief thought shall be to fill that responsibility and discharge that duty so when I have ended each of them I shall have lifted the level of human ideals and achievements a little higher than I found it. In view of this fundamental in a code of trade ethics for international Rotary are the following principles:

"The eleven points of Rotary's code of service were defined as, first, to consider my vocation worthy as affording me a distinct opportunity to serve society; second, to improve myself, increase my efficiency, and enlarge my service; third, to realize, I am a business man and ambitious to succeed, but to desire no success not founded on highest justice and morality; fourth, to hold exchange of my goods, service and ideas for profit is legitimate, provided all parties in the exchange are benefited; fifth, to use my best endeavors to elevate the standards of business and to so conduct my affairs that others in my vocation may find it wise and profitable and conducive to happiness to emulate my example; sixth, to conduct my business so as to give equal to or better than my competitor; seventh, to understand one of the greatest assets of a business or professional man is his friends; eighth, to hold that true friends demand nothing of one another and that any abuse of friendship for profit is foreign to the spirit of Rotary; ninth, to consider no success legitimate which is secured by taking unfair advantage of opportunities in the social order denied others; tenth, to be not more obligated to a brother Rotarian than to every other man in human society, and, eleventh, to hold believing in the universality of golden rule that society best holds together when equal opportunity is accorded all men in the natural resources of this planet."

THE SIMPLE LIFE OF THE "SMALL TOWN" A REFRESHING TONIC TO THE CITY FLAT DWELLERS.

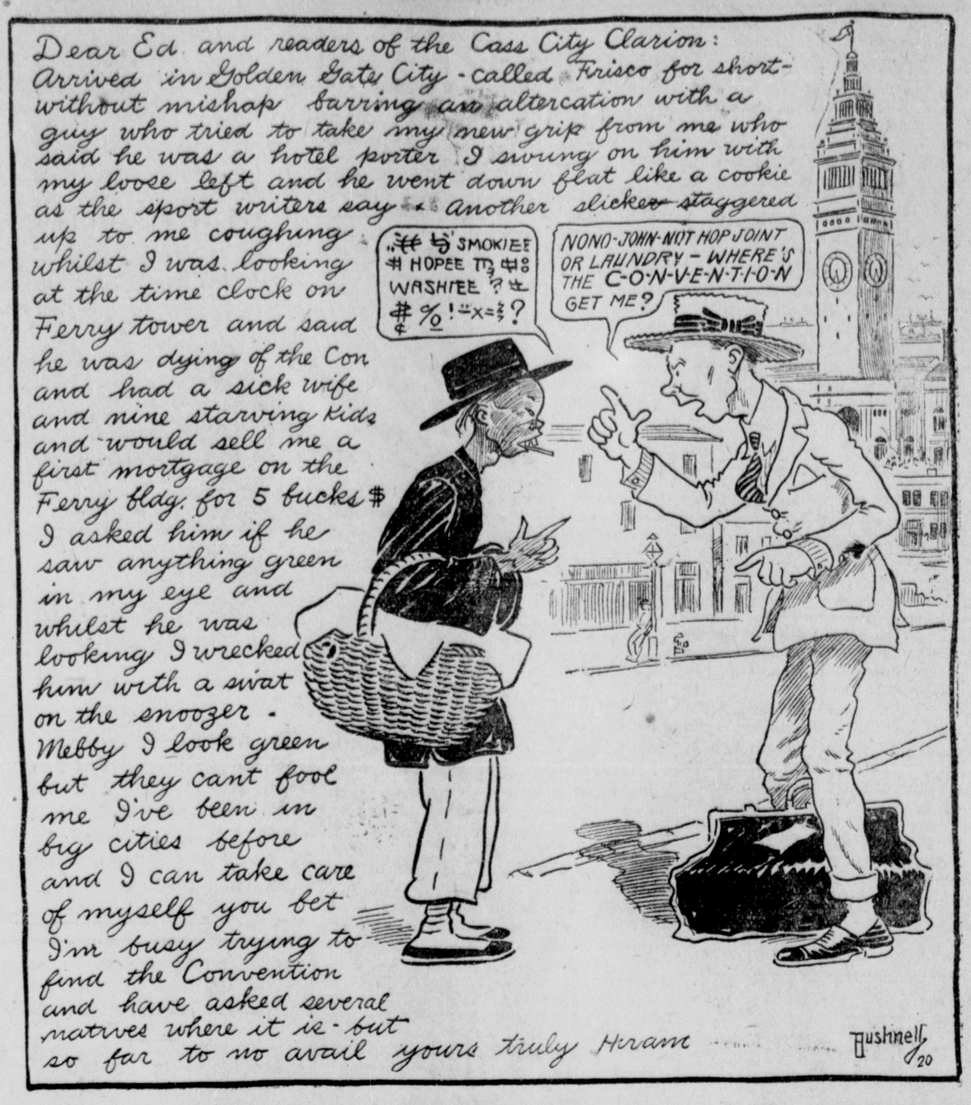

Writing from the heart of Gotham one finds the nomination of Senator Harding already has produced a profound respect for the "small town." In fact, turning the national political spotlight upon little Marion, Ohio, has brought immediately into the foreground the thousands of other modest-sized, tree-roofed burgs back of the dust clouds raised by the motor cars rushing along the great and small highways that connect the four points of the American population compass.

"We had been suffering from an overdose of the big city," said Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler. "Senator Harding stepping into the campaign picture focuses attention upon the community life of the small town. We now hear again of silver cornet bands, real Fourth of July oratory and home yards filled with hollyhocks and pansy beds."

Dr. Butler and other shrewd observers of tendencies express the opinion that events of the next few months are going to work small towns up into new stellar headline positions. People of the swollen centers are going to have revealed to them a fresh appreciation of localities where ivy-clad homesteads are still extant and the laughter of romping children is heard up and down green-carpeted lawns.

Through glimpses into the Harding background of Marion hundreds of thousands of big city dwellers are likely to come under the urge of immigration to those smaller centers of wide-front porches, strawberry festivals and old swimming pools. The Harding candidacy is a welcome throw-back to the simple life, a refreshing tonic to flat dwellers, and tube strap hangers who caught in the eddies of metropolitan currents had forgotten the smoke houses, the corn crib and the old gray mare of memory-land.

"THAT LITTLE GAME" — Down to Figures

Rippling Rhymes by Walt Mason

HOME BREW.

I made a keg of home brewed ale, with raisins, yeast and water, and now I'm in the county jail, where reason's prone to totter. I made five gallons of the truck to show that I could do it; I drank three quarts and ran amuck, and here I am, beshrew it! My head is out of shape on top, my brow is swelled and hilly, for there the outraged village cop assailed me with his billy When I get out, some five years hence (this fact I put some stress on), I'll try to brew no Old Stone Fence—I will have learned my lesson. It does not pay to fool the law, in measure small or greater, for punishment is all you draw—it gets you soon or later. A lot of laws give me a pain, I'm tempted to defy them; but in the hours when I am sane I guide my footsteps by them. We cannot pick and choose the laws that we'll observe and cherish; we can't approve one with our jaws, and say the next must perish. We have to take them as they come, and not behave like quitters, and if we find that some are bum, we bravely take our bitters. The law's against all forms of booze, and when my stretch is ended, I will compound no home made brews of yeast and raisins blended.

P. R. R. NINE WILL PRACTICE IN XENIA UNDER LATIMER

The Pennsylvania railroad team of the Southwestern Division, recently inaguerated with Railroad Detective Cliff "Tack" Latimer, former big league player as manager, will practice at the old Reserve ball park on Cincinnati Avenue in this city.

This was decided on at a meeting of the Pennsylvania officials interested in the club held in Cincinnati Monday and Manager Latimer has announced that it is hoped to have the players ready to start initial practice at the local park in about ten days. A call is now being made for players among employes through out the division by C. W. Bell, Assistant Trainmaster at Cincinnati, who has been named chairman of the Cincinnati Division Base Ball Committee. Among officials interested in the project is Superintendent R. C. Barnard, and others of the System.

The following letter has been mailed to employes over the Cincinnati division by Mr. Bell. 'A baseball League on the Pennsylvania System has been formed, one team to represent each Division. The teams down east are high class and if we expect to hold our own with them, the Cincinnati Division team will have to be a good one. We have the material for such a team on the Division (and this of course includes the C. L. & N. Ry.) it must be "smoked out" and gotten together.

"Any man who has been in the service since May 1, 1920, is eligible to play this year. The men will be paid their lost time and expenses while away playing and we expect to outfit the team properly. Arrangements will be made for the men to be away from work in order to play and the games at least until September 1, will be played on week days to the Saturday and Sunday outside playing by many of the men will not be interfered with.

"It is proposed to get the "gang" together by "try outs,' to be conducted by "'Tack" Latimer.

"Remember we must have a good team and we want plenty of men from whom to choose. The trips will be enjoyable, and the opportunity of playing under the direction of a man who has had much big league experience will be very desirable. Who knows but what the Cincinnati Division might represent the Southwestern Region in the System Championship Series for the Atterbury Cup to be played in the fall.

"Now come on, all you Alexanders, Heinie Grohs and 'Babe' Ruths."

While it is pointed out that the men who play this year must have been employed by the company previous to May 1, this rule, it is said, will not hold good next year, when the officials plan to secure all the baseball talent possible and retain these players on the railroad payroll at good salaries the year around. Men will be given an opportunity off from their work to play and their salaries will continue while they will be paid their expenses on trips.

Over $400 was spent by the committee Monday in buying uniforms and equipment for the club, and it is assured that the players will have every backing necessary to put a good club in the field. A ball park will be fitted up near Linwood, Cincinnati, where the club will play its home games. The selection of this city as the training rounds for the club, was made because of Manager Latimer's home being located here, which throws Xenia into the spotlight of the Cincinnati division.

Games have so far been booked with Zanesville, Columbus, Logansport and other railroad centers, but next year, with the gradual improvement of the club, it is hoped to have the Cincinnati Division team meeting the Division teams from Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, Reading, New York and other places, and contending in the fall with other teams over the System for the Atterburg Cup.

The industrial baseball team has proven exceedingly popular throughout Pennsylvania, where there are a number of high salaried clubs playing, and it is the hope of officials of the Cincinnati Division in organizing the local club, that it can be made strong enough to represent this division in any championship series with the big clubs of the east.

DINNER STORIES

"It seems to me," said the old-fashioned man, "that $75 is a lot of money to pay for a ready-made suit of clothes."

"Perhaps it is," replied the purchaser, "but the salesman made the transaction as painless for me as possible."

"How so?"

"He told me the same suit would probably cost $100 next year."

"Did you see me last night at any time between the hours of 9:30 and 9 o'clock?" asked Bibbleton.

"I saw you about midnight."

"Was I—er—attracting undue attention to myself?"

"I wouldn't call it undue attention, considering the circumstances. You were marching down the street with your arms around two newsboys and lustily singing, 'Over There.'"

A woman was engaging a cook, and inquired why she had left a certain place.

"I couldn't stop there, ma'am," was the reply. "I don't mind rations, and I believe I'm economical, but in that house they have so saving that the very mice used to run about with tears in their eyes."

The youth seated himself in the dentist's chair. He wore a wonderful striped silk shirt and an even more wonderful checked suit. He had the vacant stare that so often goes with both.

"I am afraid to give him gas," the dentist said to his assistant.

"Why?"

"Well," replied the dentist, "how will I know when he is unconscious?"

Heart and Home Problems

BY MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson: There is a girl in this town who prides herself on taking other girls' fellows. I go with this girl, but would like to drop her without making her angry, as she is my pastor's daughter.

She is very pretty and has a way that the boys can't resist. She told me herself that she had promised to marry three boys this summer, but she is just fooling them and they don't know it.

I introduced her to my friend and she just talked until I couldn't get in a word. It was annoying and my friend liked her very much. Yesterday my friend and I went to see this girl and she pointed out another girl and told how she was fooling a young man and said that she would not do such a thing. My friend did not know any better and he liked her just that much more. He asked her about having a date with her. He is only in town once a month and I want him myself.

I try not to be jealous, but I can't help it. I don't see why she can't let my friend alone when she has so many more. She laughs and makes fun of him after he leaves. Should I tell my friend how she does? She is very deceitful. BROWN EYES.

You will lose the young man if you warn him against the other girl. Let him find out her faults himself. She cannot deceive people indefinitely. Perhaps you will lose his friendship, but there will be less danger if you keep your silence.

It looks as if jealousy has made you judge the girl too harshly. Above all things be honest with yourself and do not deceive yourself into thinking she is unworthy in ways which she really is not. A popular girl is often misjudged.

If you want to drop her, be friendly when you meet, but do not seek her company. You will be accused of jealousy if you do drop her.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a high school girl and wear my hair in curls. I am going to a play with a boy very soon. Would it be proper for me to wear my hair up? Most of the girls I chum with wear their hair up when they go out. RUTHIE.

If you are sixteen or over you are old enough to do up your hair.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: When a gentleman sees a young lady home and asks her for a date, is it proper for the girl to set the date and time or the gentleman?

I have a boy friend who seems to think a lot of me. He has taken my girl friend out several times, and when near me always asks me for a date and promises to call me up, but he never does. I made a date with him and he did not fill it. What would you advise me to do when I see him? Should I call him and ask why he did not come? Is it my place to speak to him first? BILLIE.

When a young man asks if he may call upon the girl, she should reply that she would be glad to have him. Then it is his place to ask when he can come. If he asks the girl should say when it would be most convenient.

Do not call the boy and ask him why he did not fill his engagement. He was discourteous and deserves no consideration from you. Speak to him as an acquaintance when you meet, but not as a friend. If his eyes show recognition it is your place to speak first, but if he acts as if he does not know you ignore him.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: Can you tell me what will make the skin fine in texture? GRAY EYES.

Every night wash the face with a good face soap and then steam it by dipping a bath towel in hot water and holding it on the face until the face becomes soft and red. After this rub in a good face cream. The treatment will not improve the texture of the skin after a few applications, but in a few months a change for the better will be noticed.

The convention will be held in one of the three suffrage cities—Chicago, San Francisco or Denver and the call for it will be issued shortly.

PHYSICIANS URGED TO KEEP STEP WITH NEW DISCOVERIES

Modern Remedies Aid Doctor In Saving Life.

Cleveland, O., June 23—"Keep step with the new discoveries and modern methods in the medical world," was the keynote of an address delivered before the convention of the American Institute of Homeopathy by Dr. Earl Miller, Detroit, here today.

The physician who fails to make use of a remedy simply because it is new, may be losing a chance to save a human life, declared Dr Miller. He pointed out that the war has produced many new medicines and medical discoveries and urged that all physicians immediately familiarize themselves with these.

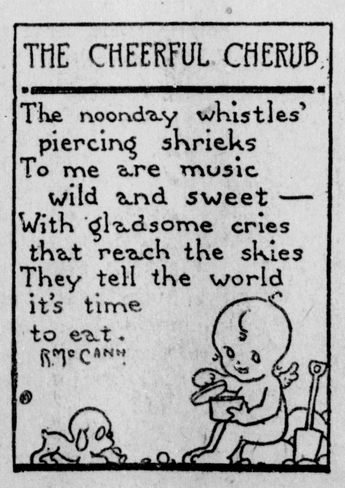

Dr. Gilbert Fitzpatrick, Detroit, urged the adoption of a national advertising campaign in high schools calling attention to the need for doctors and the opportunities in the medical profession. He pointed out that the medical profession was at present somewhat depleted and pointed to the advertising campaign as a means for staving off further depletion. He also urged organization for the increasing of doctors' wages, pointing out that brick layers in many cases were receiving considerably more than young doctors.

Today's session of the convention was known as "Ohio day." Dr. W. O. Thompson, president of the Ohio State University, will be the principal speaker at the session tonight.

JAPAN PROTESTING CALIFORNIA MEASURES

Washington, June 23. — Japan has lodged what amounts to an informal protest at the state department against proposed legislation in California providing for absolute prohibition of ownership or lease of land by Japanese, it was learned. Serious complications may arise should the proposed measure be made a law, it is feared here.

Supplementing the California alien land law, which merely prohibited ownership of land by Japanese, the proposed law imposes sweeping prohibition of the enjoyment of virtually all land rights by Japanese through the following restrictions, the Japanese contend: Prohibition of land ownership by Japanese; prohibition of leasing of farm land by Japanese; prohibition of the American-born Japanese minor, an American citizen, from acquiring real property under the guardianship of his or her own parent; prohibition of the Japanese from being a member of or acquiring any share in any company or corporation owning farm land and the confiscation of real property upon certain prima facie presumptions.

STREET CAR OFFICIALS REFUSE OFFER FOR SIX CENT FARE

Dayton, O., June 23. —An offer of a six cent fare as an attempt to compromise the street car officials and settle the strike that has been in effect here since Sunday, was refused by the officials Tuesday and the strike situation in that city remains unchanged with five car lines tied up.

Car officials are willing to accede to the demands of the 700 employes on strike for 70 cents an hour wage, if the city permits them an increase in fare. Valentine Winters spokesman for the officials, however, said that six cents is not satisfactory.

All kinds of automobiles have been turned into transfer busses in Dayton. The proposition of a seven cent fare demanded by the officials was taken up by city officials Wednesday.

SAYS HIS PRESCRIPTION HAS POWERFUL INFLUENCE OVER RHEUMATISM

Mr. James H Allen who suffered for many years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided after years of ceaseless study that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery to others who took it, with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. Sayre & Hemphill have been appointed agents for Allenrhu in this vicinity with the understanding that they will freely return the purchase money to all who state they received no benefit.

I have a boy friend who seems to think a lot of me. He has taken my girl friend out several times, and when near me always asks me for a date and promises to call me up, but he never does. I made a date with him and he did not fill it. What would you advise me to do when I see him? Should I call him and ask why he did not come? Is it my place to speak to him first? BILLIE.

When a young man asks if he may call upon the girl, she should reply that she would be glad to have him. Then it is his place to ask when he can come. If he asks the girl should say when it would be most convenient.

Do not call the boy and ask him why he did not fill his engagement. He was discourteous and deserves no consideration from you. Speak to him as an acquaintance when you meet, but not as a friend. If his eyes show recognition it is your place to speak first, but if he acts as if he does not know you ignore him.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: Can you tell me what will make the skin fine in texture? GRAY EYES.

Every night wash the face with a good face soap and then steam it by dipping a bath towel in hot water and holding it on the face until the face becomes soft and red. After this rub in a good face cream. The treatment will not improve the texture of the skin after a few applications, but in a few months a change for the better will be noticed.

Inspectors and detectives say the Xenia force has ever been found wanting when its assistance has been sought. Wager escaped from Dayton in an automobile after he is said to have assisted two other men i a $1000 robbery. The description of the man and machine which was furnished the Xenia department police say, was meager, but despite this fact, Dayton was notified of his arrest shortly after he left the outskirts of the city.

The convention will be held in one of the three suffrage cities—Chicago, San Francisco or Denver and the call for it will be issued shortly.

PHYSICIANS URGED TO KEEP STEP WITH NEW DISCOVERIES

Modern Remedies Aid Doctor In Saving Life.

Cleveland, O., June 23—"Keep step with the new discoveries and modern methods in the medical world," was the keynote of an address delivered before the convention of the American Institute of Homeopathy by Dr. Earl Miller, Detroit, here today.

"No physician who fails to make use of a remedy simply because it is new, may be losing a chance to save a human life, declared Dr Miller. He pointed out that the war has produced many new medicines and medical discoveries and urged that all physicians immediately familiarize themselves with these.

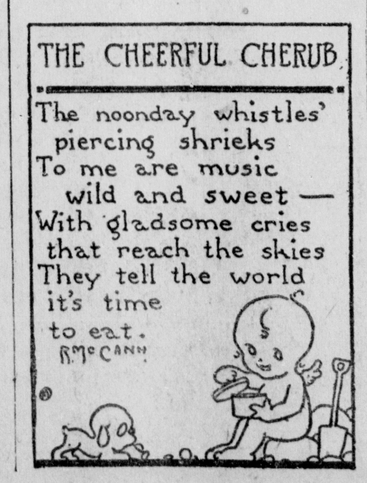

Dr. Gilbert Fitzpatrick, Detroit, urged the adoption of a national advertising campaign in high schools calling attention to the need for doctors and the opportunities in the medical profession. He pointed out that the medical profession was at present somewhat depleted and pointed to the advertising campaign as a means for staving off further depletion. He also urged organization for the increasing of doctors' wages, pointing out that brick layers in many cases were receiving considerably more than young doctors.

Today's session of the convention was known as "Ohio day." Dr. W. O. Thompson, president of the Ohio State University, will be the principal speaker at the session tonight.

JAPAN PROTESTING CALIFORNIA MEASURES

Washington, June 23. — Japan has lodged what amounts to an informal protest at the state department against proposed legislation in California providing for absolute prohibition of ownership or lease of land by Japanese, it was learned. Serious complications may arise should the proposed measure be made a law, it is feared here.

Supplementing the California alien land law, which merely prohibited ownership of land by Japanese, the proposed law imposes sweeping prohibition of the enjoyment of virtually all land rights by Japanese through the following restrictions, the Japanese contend: Prohibition of land ownership by Japanese; prohibition of leasing of farm land by Japanese; prohibition of the American-born Japanese minor, an American citizen, from acquiring real property under the guardianship of his or her own parent; prohibition of the Japanese from being a member of or acquiring any share in any company or corporation owning farm land and the confiscation of real property upon certain prima facie presumptions.

STREET CAR OFFICIALS REFUSE OFFER FOR SIX CENT FARE

Dayton, O., June 23. —An offer of a six cent fare as an attempt to compromise the street car officials and settle the strike that has been in effect here since Sunday, was refused by the officials Tuesday and the strike situation in that city remains unchanged with five car lines tied up.

Car officials are willing to accede to the demands of the 700 employes on strike for 70 cents an hour wage, if the city permits them an increase in fare. Valentine Winters spokesman for the officials, however, said that six cents is not satisfactory.

All kinds of automobiles have been turned into transfer busses in Dayton. The proposition of a seven cent fare demanded by the officials was taken up by city officials Wednesday.

SAYS HIS PRESCRIPTION HAS POWERFUL INFLUENCE OVER RHEUMATISM

Mr. James H. Allen who suffered for many years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery to others who took it, with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. Sayre & Hemphill have been appointed agents for Allenrhu in this vicinity with the understanding that they will freely return the purchase money to all who state they received no benefit.

...EY SEND THE LIFESAVERS TO HIS RESCUE—OR LET HIM PERISH?

VICE PRESIDENT OF U. S. RUMORED TO BE PROBABLE CANDIDATE

San Francisco, June 23.—Out at Delmonte, California, in a big hotel, is a gray little man who smokes big black cigars and chuckles constantly. He finds fun in everything. Apparently he thinks there is fun in being vice president. Evidently he expects to find enjoyment in the big Democratic convention which opens Monday.

Undoubtedly there is no man now in California, nor will there be until July 4, who is, or will be more personally interested in what this convention will do than this same gray man with the twinkling eyes.

Still he chuckles.

In San rancisco you can find dozens of curious men. They do not have the same personal interest, but they are taking the situation seriously. They are milling about the lobbies of the big hotels issuing statements, buzzing, figuring and wondering. What is to be done about President Wilson and his league? What about the liquor and the Irish questions? What about William McAdoo, Senator Owen, Governor Cox, Governor Edwards and all the rest? They hae given little consideration to the man at Delmonte who chuckles at it all.

While the dopesters in the big city have given little consideation to the man, there is a quiet little boom fostered here and before the balloting is very old, it is now predicted, Vice President Thomas Riley Marshall, will swing into the field. He is taking no part in the conversation but there is no question that he is as serious a candidate for the place as any of those whose names have gone forth as real contenders.

"I am beginning to learn, however" dent of the United States and a delegate to this convention,' Mr. Marshall said.

"I am looking on, but saying little. I have been locked up at Washington for a long time and perhaps I have failed to grasp just what the people want.'

That sounded serious. The next moment developed the joke.

"I am beginning to lear, however,' he continued, "I find that most of them want money, more money."

His long, black, cigar shot ceilingward and a twinkle came into his merry eyes. He glanced about his room. It was the most beautifully appointed room in one of the most expensive hotels on the coast.

"I see that J. Hamilton Lewis is running for vice president on his own platform,' he went on. "I think every man should have the right to run for vice president on his own platform."

On the big questions which are to come before the convention, Mr. Marshall has very liberal views. It is his philosophy that there are two sides to every question and every man should be given his way.

'Even a sheet of paper has two sides, no matter how thin it is,' he said chuckling. There are those in San Francisco who believe that this jovial public man has talked himself out of a chance of being nominated. Recently upon reaching this city he was quoted in the newspapers as saying in answer to a question, that "there i sno Irish question."

Many of his friends believed that such a remark, if given consideration, would be death blow. But this is not taken seriously by certain friends who fell confident that he stands as good a chance as any of those now in the field to pull down the big prize.

Mr. Marshall will be in San Francisco tomorrow. He will be a guest at the San Francisco St. Francis Hotel with a party of friends. The Marshall adherents are awaiting his arrival with keen interest. Thus far there has been no open work in his behalf, but his friends believe when the vice president is seen on the grounds in person, a life sized boom will be started.

It is pointed out that the great majority of delegates to this convention are uninstructed and will come to San Francisco ready to flock to the standards of the man who can win for the Democratic party.

Marshall boomers feel that W. G. McAdoo has talked himself out of the nomination and that this leaves Mr. Marshall in a strong position.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE TO BE INCLUDED IN DEMOCRATIC PLANKS

San Francisco, June 23—The Democratic national convention at San Francisco will without a doubt, adopt a platform endorsing the federal amendment for woman suffrage. This will be in line with the policy of the party as announced by President Wilson and endorsed by every leading Democrat in the United States and I hope it will call the attention of American women to the fact that no man in the white house ever supported woman suffrage except Woodrow Wilson. Even Theo. Roosevelt was an anti until the formation of the progressive party, four years after he went out of office.

The league of nations is not second in importance in the minds of women, even to the matter of suffrage, for suffrage is an accomplished fact. The women of America sent their sons into the war in the belief that this war would bring a promise of peace to our troubled world.

The Democratic party under the leadership of a Democratic president has formulated a treaty including a league of nations and the Democratic convention will adopt as its principal plank a demand for a treaty, including a provision for such a league. It is immaterial what words may be adopted in creating this great international tribunal, but it is essential that the central idea of substituting peaceful negotiation for force of arms shall in wise be nullified and personally I do not see how the language of the treaty submitted by the president, can be improved upon. When Mr. Lodge repudiated the league that he himself had endorsed, he demonstrated to the world the destructive Lodge-Ludendorff ideal, which reduced to its simplest terms, means "down with Wilson."

The fate of Ireland and her gallant people lies close to the heart of every American. Our citizens who have their mainsprings of race back in the little island are flesh of our flesh and bone of our bone, and if the wishes of the people are reflected in the San Francisco platform, a statement will be embodied therein that America desires for Ireland what Ireland desires for herself.

AUTO SKIDS INTO DITCH; BREAKS WHEEL

No one was injured but the automobile was slightly damaged when a Nash touring car driven by Lee Bickett, of the New Jasper pike, skidded into a ditch on the Jasper pike about three quarters of a mile from Xenia Tuesday evening shortly before six o'clock.

Mr. Bickett was returning home from Xenia when in passing another car on a hill, the wheels struck the soft earth on the side of the road, causing the car to skid into the ditch. A front wheel was smashed.

INVESTIGATORS TURN TO THEORY THAT MAN KILLED J. B. ELWELL

New York, June 23.—Investigators who are attempting to unravel the tangled threads of love, hate and jealousy involved in the mysterious murder of Joseph Bowne Elwell, again turned today to the theory that the shooting was done by a man, and that the murderer had remained hidden in Elwell's handsomely furnished home at 244 West 70 street for hours before the tragedy.

It has now developed that between 12:30 and 1 o'clock on the morning of June 11—the day of the crime—an attempt was made by some one in the turfman's home to get an out of town telephone number, but failed. Elwell had not returned home from the Midnight Frolics at that time indicating that the call had been made for some one lying in wait for him. In the minds of the detectives it indicates also that the murderer was a person of great boldness.

After running down endless clues without result, the authorities declared today that the murder had been committed by a person who is a master at his work. Never in any crime has a law breaker covered up his tracks so completely.

Captain Carey, of the homicide squad of the police department has questioned every person living in the block in which Elwell's house is located but has found no one who saw any man who might be suspected of the murder leave the house during the "murder period"—between 2:30 and 8:25 o'clock. District Attorney Swann has telegraphed to Minneapolis, requesting Miss Elly Hope Anderson, the friend of Victor Von Schlegell, to return to this city to answer certain questions which the investigators are anxious to settle up. Miss Anderson, who was formerly a music student in New York, is only indirectly connected with the case through her friendship for Von Schlegell.

Von Schlegell and Elwell were friends and the latter was very attentive to the former's divorced wife, Miss Viola Kraus. Miss Anderson and Von Schlegell dined together upon the Ritz Carlton roof, where Elwell and a party of friends were dining at the same time, the night before the murder.

Eight or ten letters seized in Miss Anderson's apartments in this city, were opened by the district attorney's staff. District Attorney Swann was indignant that these letters were taken by the detectives as they were personal and private property.

The foreman of the garage where Von Schlegell kept a motor car, said Von Schlegell called for his automobile at 8 o'clock on the night of the murder. It was undergoing repairs, so Von Schlegell started to get a telephone number. This proved to be the number of Miss Anderson's apartment. The garage foreman said further that Miss Anderson frequently called for Von Schlegell's car herself.

What Is Nuxated Iron?

Physician Explains—Says Public Ought To Know What They Are Taking---Practical Advice on What To Do To Build Up Your Strength, Power and Endurance and Increase the Red Blood Corpuscles.

The fact that Nuxated Iron is today being used by over three million people annually and that so many physicians are prescribing it as a tonic, strength and blood builder in weak, nervous, run-down conditions has led to an investigation of its merits by designated physicians and others whose reports should be of great importance to the public generally. Among these is the statement made by Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly physician of Bellevue Hospital (Outdoor Dept.), New York, and Westchester County Hospital, who says: "When one patient after another began asking my opinion of Nuxated Iron, I resolved to go thoroughly into the subject and find out for myself whether or not it possessed the real value claimed by its manufacturers and attested to by so many prominent people. This is exactly what I believe every honest, conscientious physician should do before prescribing or lending his endorsement to any product whatsoever. If an article is worthless we practitioners ought to be the first to know of it and if it is efficacious we are in duty bound to recommend it for the welfare of our patients. A study of the composition of the Nuxated Iron formula so impressed me with the therapeutic efficacy of the product that I immediately tested it in a number of obstinate cases. So quickly did it increase the strength, energy and endurance of the patients to whom it was administered that I became firmly convinced of its remarkable value as a tonic and blood builder. I have since taken it myself with excellent results. There are thousands of delicate, nervous, run-down folks who need just such a preparation as this but do not know what to take. Therefore I have urgently suggested the widespread publication of the sworn statement of the composition of its formula so that the public may know what they are taking. This complete formula is now to be found in newspapers throughout the country. It is composed principally of organic iron in the form of iron peptonate of a special specific standard and glycerophsphates which is one of the most costly tonic ingredients known. To the credit of the manufacturers it may be said that they use the most expensive form of iron peptonate, whereas by employing other makes they could have put the same quantity of actual iron in the tablets at less than one-fourth the cost and by using metallic iron they could have reduced the cost to less than one-twelfth, but by thus cheapening the product they would undoubtedly have impaired its therapeutic efficacy. In my opinion a careful examination of this formula by any physician or pharmacist should convince him that Nuxated Iron is to be placed among the very highest class and most strictly ethical preparations known to medical science. It excels anything I have ever used for building up the system and increasing the red blood corpuscles thereby enriching and fortifying the blood against the ravages of disease.

What Is Nuxated Iron?

Physician Explains—Says Public Ought To Know What They Are Taking---Practical Advice on What To Do To Build Up Your Strength, Power and Endurance and Increase the Red Blood Corpuscles.

The fact that Nuxated Iron is today being used by over three million people annually and that so many physicians are prescribing it as a tonic, strength and blood builder in weak, nervous, run-down conditions has led to an investigation of its merits by designated physicians and others whose reports should be of great importance to the public generally. Among these is the statement made by Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly physician of Bellevue Hospital (Outdoor Dept.), New York, and Westchester County Hospital, who says: "When one patient after another began asking my opinion of Nuxated Iron, I resolved to go thoroughly into the subject and find out for myself whether or not it possessed the real value claimed by its manufacturers and attested to by so many prominent people. This is exactly what I believe every honest, conscientious physician should do before prescribing or lending his endorsement to any product whatsoever. If an article is worthless we practitioners ought to be the first to know of it and if it is efficacious we are in duty bound to recommend it for the welfare of our patients. A study of the composition of the Nuxated Iron formula so impressed me with the therapeutic efficacy of the product that I immediately tested it in a number of obstinate cases. So quickly did it increase the strength, energy and endurance of the patients to whom it was administered that I became firmly convinced of its remarkable value as a tonic and blood builder. I have since taken it myself with excellent results. There are thousands of delicate, nervous, run-down folks who need just such a preparation as this but do not know what to take. Therefore I have urgently suggested the widespread publication of the sworn statement of the composition of its formula so that the public may know what they are taking. This complete formula is now to be found in newspapers throughout the country. It is composed principally of organic iron in the form of iron peptonate of a special specific standard and glycerophsophates which is one of the most costly tonic ingredients known. To the credit of the manufacturers it may be said that they use the most expensive form of iron peptonate, whereas by employing other makes they could have put the same quantity of actual iron in the tablets at less than one-fourth the cost and by using metallic iron they could have reduced the cost to less than one-twelfth, but by thus cheapening the product they would undoubtedly have impaired its therapeutic efficacy. In my opinion a careful examination of this formula by any physician or pharmacist should convince him that Nuxated Iron is to be placed among the very highest class and most strictly ethical preparations known to medical science. It excels anything I have ever used for building up the system and increasing the red blood corpuscles thereby enriching and fortifying the blood against the ravages of disease.

PRETTY WEDDING CELEBRATED ON LAWN

Dorothy Perkins roses, in their natural beauty, and other growing garden flowers, furnished the surroundings for the nuptials of Miss Ada Wehrly to Curtis Bailey Geyer, which was celebrated on the lawn at the home of the bride's father Dr. W. H. Wehrly, Price Hill, Cincinnati, at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

The bridal procession from the house was led by two small nephews of the bride, Robert Kerr of Tippecanoe City, and Gordon Wehrly, who scattered rose petals for a pathway. Miss Mary Katherine Geyer of Xenia, the bridegroom's sister, wearing light blue organdy, and carrying a big cluster of pink sweet peas and baby blue larkspur was the bride's maid, and followed the two little boys. Little Hugh Wehrly, Jr. another nephew of the bride was the ring bearer, and he carried the two golden circlets on a tiny white satin cushion.

The bride walked with her brother Hugh Wehrly, by whom she was given in marriage. Her robe was an exquisite one of white lace over georgette and she carried a shower of white roses and lilies of the valley.

The bridegroom with his brother, George Dodds Geyer of this city, met the bride and her party at the floral altar where the officiating clergyman, the bride's father, Dr. W. H. Wehrley, and his assistant, Dr. Alpheus Austin, pastor o the Mt. Auburn Methodist Episcopal church waited to perform the ceremony.

Before the service a program of nuptial music was rendered, by an orchestra of piano and two violins. Two numbers were sung by the bride's sister, Mrs. aymond Kerr of Tippecanoe City.

Following the service an ice, cake and bon bons were served to the 100 guests. The house was decked in Dorothy Perkins roses and a huge centerpiece of those lovely blossoms was used on the table in the dining room.

Mr. and Mrs Geyer are on a brief honeymoon trip and are expected to arrive in Xenia Thursday morning on their way to East Braintree, Mass., where they will live. They will be guests of relatives here until the end of the week. Mr. Geyer who is taking a course in theology at Boston University, has been assigned by the Conference to a Church at East Braintree.

His bride who is an Ohio Wesleyan Unversity girl has often visited here and has many friends who will be glad to greet her when she arrives here on her honeymoon.

Xenia people who went down for the wedding were Mrs. J C. Dodds, and Mr. and Mrs. George D Geyer, Mrs. Carie D. Geyer and Miss Mary Katharine Geyer went to Cincinnati direct from Delaware. They have returned to Xenia to greet the bridal pair upon their arrival here.

Doctor Cupid

That love sometimes cures disease is a fact that has been called to the attention of the public by a prominent physician. Love is not, however, the cure for all women. Many a woman is nervous and irritable, feels dragged down and worn out for no reason that she can think of.

Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription gives new life and new strength to weak, worn-out, run-down women. "Favorite Prescription" makes weak women strong and sick women well. It is now sold by all druggists in the United States in tablets as well as liquid form.

OAK HARBOR, OHIO—"I have taken Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and have given it to my daughters and have always been very well satisfied with the results obtained by its use.

"When my daughters began growing into womanhood I gave it to them and it proved most beneficial. I can highly recommend 'Favorite Prescription' to the expectant mother and to young girls."

WAS ANNOYED BY CATARRH OF HEAD

Marietta man says his nose was stopped up every morning; phlegm in his throat and breath foul. Nothing he ever took helped him like Dreco did.

"Every morning it would take me a couple of hours to get my nose and throat cleared out, which I knew was catarrh," said Mr. S. B. Fruse, who resides on 8th St., Marietta, O.

"I kept hawking and spitting and continually clearing my throat; my breath was foul and my breathing was difficult. I used several sprays and creams in my nose, but they didn't seem to help much. This Dreco medicine has certainly helped me. My head is clear; in fact, every symptom of catarrh is much better.

"I also had aching pains in my back and my stomach was in a bad condition, as it filled up with gas after every meal and was very painful; I sometimes wondered if I had catarrh of the stomach; I didn't sleep well and often got dizzy.

"Dreco has brought about a big change in my feelings, and I gladly commend it to all sufferers."

The one positive way to overcome catarrh is through the blood. The blood absorbs Dreco very quickly and takes it to the weak parts of the body, where its tonic and strengthening effects are soon felt.

Dreco contains no iron, mercury, potash or other harsh mineral, but is made from juices and extracts of many herbal plants, which act pleasantly on the vital organs.

All good druggists now sell Dreco and it is being especially introduced here by Sohn's Drug Store.

WATCH HEALTH IN SUMMER TIME

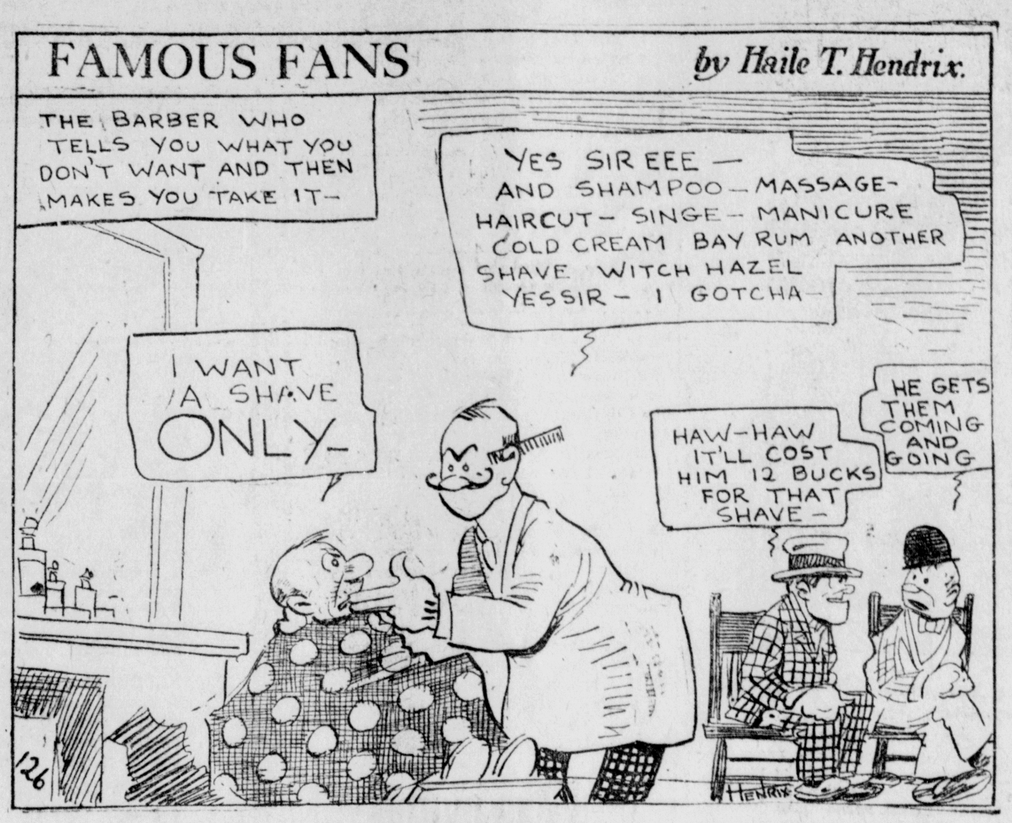

Warm weather has its compensations, so far as the health of people is concerned, by causing them to live outdoors. Nevertheless, it is more or less weakening to most people. The foundation of strength must be good digestion, and good digestion is impossible if the system is clogged with the by-products and impurities coming from the food

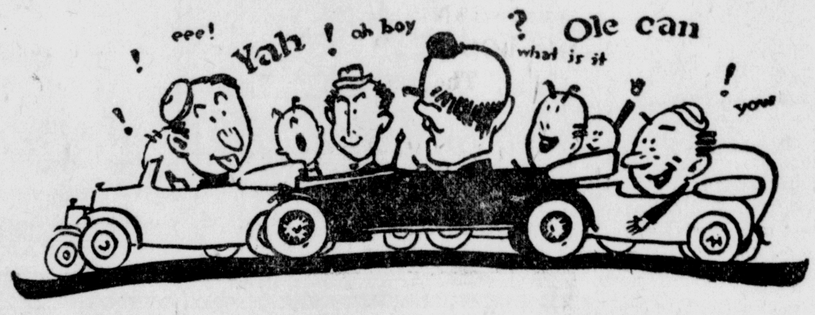

Summer is the time of all times to watch the normal action of the stomach and bowels and to assist them by a gentle laxative that will give tone to the muscles and system generally. Nothing has ever done this quite so well as Duffee's Fifty-Fifty Tonic Laxative, which, for many years has been before the public and which has made for itself a wonderful place in the esteem of the people of Ohio.

A box of these tablets and a bottle of Craig's Household Balm are almost assurance against summer troubles. The Balm will relieve acute indigestion, colic, diarrhea and pains in the stomach and bowels, as well as external pain of any kind. It may be used internally with perfect safety. The two remedies assure you of the proper assimilation of your food and the ing of your strength. They can be obtained at your grocer's or your druggist's.

A PEPPY PLAY ABOUT WIVES AND STENOGS

The sad, sweet story of a maid who would wed a man who would gaze upon no feminine charms but her own. She sallies forth into the wide world in pursuit of him, finds him, captures him and then—oh then! she begins to find out things about men, the wretches! and her own man in particular.

THE BEST EXERCISE

The great Scandinavian physical culture teacher Dr. J. P. Muller says that the best exercise for a woman to take is the following, which I have frequently recommended in this column:

Lie flat on the floor, in some loose gown without corsets (never do any exercise with corsets on—they restict the movements of the body and destroy all the benefit of the exercise.) Have the feet under some heavy object as a support, a bureau, a bed or any large piece of furniture will do. Lie relaxed on the floor, with the hands on the hips and fill the lungs with air. Sit up slowly keeping the spine as straight as possible and always keeping the hands on the hips the only assistance in changing from the flat to the sitting up position should come from the feet which will be held down by the heavy piece of furniture

You will feel a slight pull on the muscles of the legs and back, and a distinct pull on the muscles of the abdomen If you are not accustomed to any sort of exercise, do this only a couple of times at first for the muscles badly in need of this sort of exercising will probably be sore.. Keep it up every day until you have so strengthened your body that you can do it a dozen times without supporting the feet

Dr Muller Says:

"This exercise imparts a classical shape to the shins, the lower part of the abdomen and the groins. It serves in the highest degree to strengthen the abdominal regions, if every girl from her youth onwards were to perform the 12 movements of this exercise every day, protracted painful and dangerous childbirth would become a thing of the past."

Grace Smith—If you have really eliminated the fattening foods from your diet you will certainly notice a change in your weight. Are you sure however, that you have cut out the foods that produce flesh? Taking the juice of half a lemon in a glass of water once a day will not of itself make you thin though it will probably make your desire for food a little less keen.

Chile Con Carne—Four slices of bacon cut into small pieces and fried, one red pepper, one green pepper, four large onions chopped and cook with bacon. Next add one pound round steak (ground). Cook well. Add one can kidney beans and one can tomatoes and cook thirty minutes. Season to taste and add a dash of red pepper.

Cottage Cheese Custard Pie.—Rub one cup rather dry cottage cheese (not very sour) in a bowl with a fork until well separated. Make a custard of one small cup sugar, two cups sweet milk and two well beaten eggs. Add to this the cheese. Flavor with vanilla or lemon or grate the rind of half a lemon into the custard. Bake slowly in crust-lined pan until custard is set in the middle.

Pie Crust—For one pie—it is called 1-2-3: One cup flour, little salt, two tablespoons lard worked into flour, three tablespoons water. Mix in order given.

Cream Puffs—One cup boiling water and one-half cup butter substitute. Boil together and while boiling stir in one cup sifted flour. Stir constantly. Remove from fire and stir till smooth paste is formed. Let cool.

Beat in three eggs separately, one at a time. Be sure it is smooth before adding each egg. Drop on greased pan, leaving plenty of room between each one, using teaspoon. Bake twenty-five minutes in slow oven.

Recipe makes twelve.

White Cake—One cup sugar, one-half cup butter, one-half cup milk, two scant cups flour, one teaspoon baking powder, whites of four eggs beaten stiff, one teaspoon lemon extract.

This makes a large loaf and should be baked in a moderate oven.

DISCOVERIES.

To Clean White Enameled Woodwork—To a quart of equal parts lukewarm water and skimmed milk add one tablespoon of coaloil. This cleans white enamel with little rubbing and without injury to the gloss.

To Keep the Coffee Pot Warm for later members of the family without spoiling the taste of the coffee.—This is the way to do it: The first one makes it; when finished take out the little aluminum strainer containing the grounds and set the pot on the teakettle over boiling water. When the lid is removed the coffee pot should just fit in the tteakettle, so it is just as though the coffee were kept in a double boiler. It is just as good two hours after as when at first made.

Two-Minute Cold Starch—Take a fruit can (one that is nicked will do), one tablespoon starch, one tablespoon borax, one teaspoon turpentine.

Fill the can with cold water. When all dissolved stir and take what will be needed for your skirts or whatever you have. Dip two times.

Put starch you have left back in the can. Put cover on can and set away until needed again.

"JUST A GIRL"
BY JANE PHELPS

JUST A GIRL
A SHOP GIRL
CHAPTER 45

I had had my trunk brought to Mrs. Lynch's. I saw no prospect that I should be able to pay more for a room—if I could pay what she asked, I would be thankful. So I spent the evening getting ready for the morning.

I found some sheer linen collars and cuffs in the trunk, plainly hemstitched.. They would do nicely, I thought, as I basted them in the dress—that they cost more than I could earn in a week's hard work, never occurred to me, or that the other girls, as well as my customers, would know that they did.

One article of my wardrobe worried me—shoes. All my footwear had been of the smartest kind. High heels were not comfortable either to stand in all day, or to walk in, as I had learned. I made up my mind to be very economical until I could purchase a pair of more comfortable shoes—altho I had noticed that most of the young shop girls wore high heels.

I reported for duty promptly the next morning. That I could do any way, I thought when a feeling of incompetency came over me. I could be prompt, and faithful. I would try so hard to please that they would be patient with me.

"Git onto the new girl!" I heard one of the clerks at the counter with me say to another. "Why don't she comb her hair?"

I had worn my hair as I always had, as Dad liked it—drawn softly back from my face and twisted in a knot low in my neck. I had quantities of dark brown hair which waved naturally.

"Don't she look old-timey tho?" the one addressed answered. "She won't be here long before she'll catch on. Guess she's from the country." Then the befrizzled girl turned to wait upon a customer.

I felt my cheeks burn, yet couldn't help smiling. They thought me from the country! Well, I almost felt that New York was another, a foreign country. What difference did their remarks make to me? That they would make a great difference, I never dreamed. Or that one poor wage-earner had it in her power to make another poor wage earner so utterly miserable as those two girls made me.

The waists were all marked in plain figures. The sizes were supposed to be also. Yet often they were not marked correctly and I would come in for a terrible talking to from some doughty customer who had bought one, only to find it was either too large or too small.

The jam about the counter was something dreadful. The women would try on the waists, expecting us to help them, watch their bags, and coats, etc. We had no time to do this, as women were eagerly waiting their turn, and the number of waists we sold meant a better standing with the floor walkers, and with the manager of the department.

Sometimes the waists were torn in the women's endeavor to pull them from each other. At night if torn ones were found, it worked against us. We should watch our stock more carefully, they said.

"It's that new girl. She don't know how to handle them," I overheard one of the girls, Maud Wakefield, tell the manager.

"She looks like a nice girl."

"She's nice all right! Too nice. Have you noticed the kind of clothes she wears? Gee, I'd like a set of collar and cuffs like she wears to work, for my best. It would take a week's wages to earn them."

The manager made no reply, but the next time she came to the counter, I felt her sharp eyes were taking in every detail of my appearance. She said nothing, but I had caught an ominous glitter in her eyes that frightened me.

It was a day or two before she spoke to me.

"Come to my office at noon, Miss Stewart," she said and passed on.

"I'll bet the new girl is going to be bounced." Maud told her chum.

"Why?"

"Miss Marvin just told her to come to her office. You know what that means."

Tomorrow—Circumstantial Evidence.

A happy meeting between George McDonald and his son Lester, occurred one day last week after a separation of twenty six years, during which time neither had known the whereabouts of the other. The meeting was brought about by employees of the Oregonia Bridge Company, where the father had been employed only a few days before. The son, who also was an employee of the same company, but in a different gang of hands, had told the story of the separation to a number of his fellow workmen, and likewise the father had told the same story to the ones with whom he was working. Communication concerning the men having been carried on to some extent between the two divisions of workman it was arranged for a meeting between the two, which resulted in father and son being united.

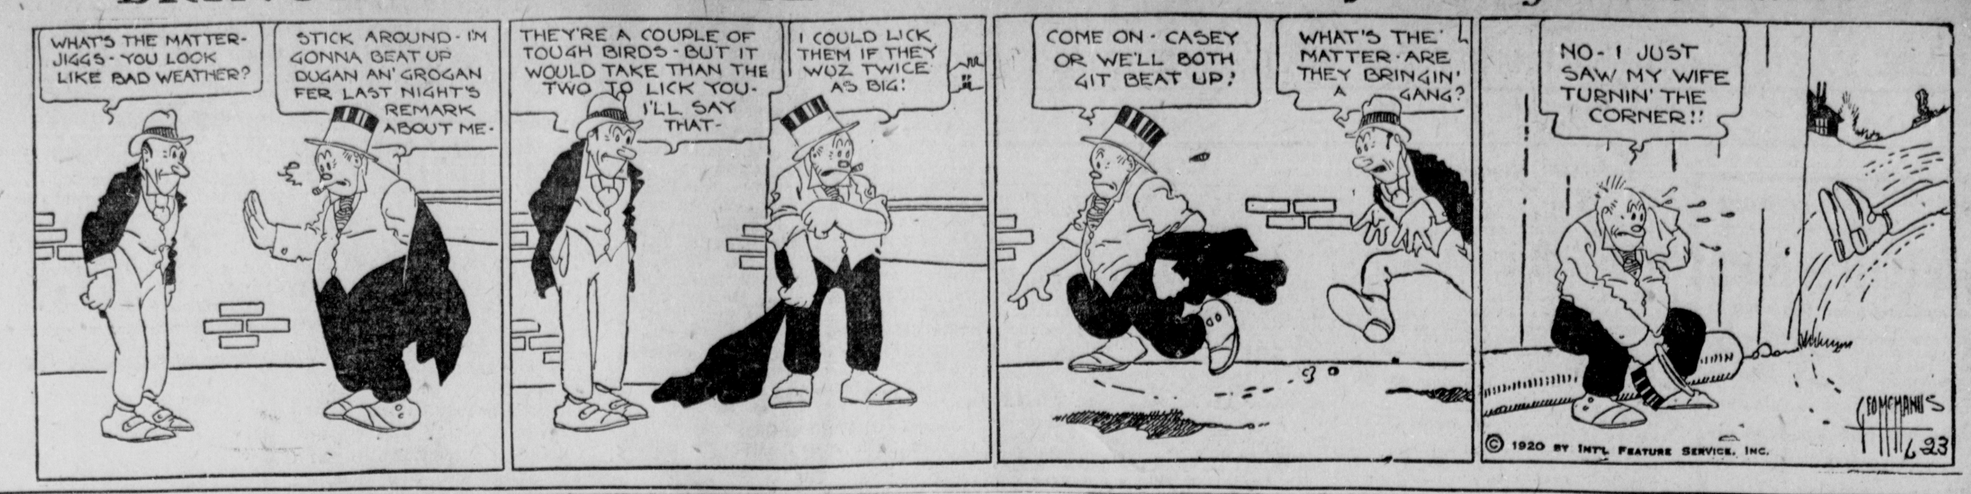

No dearth of "Wedding Bees" in Bellbrook this week. They have been merrily ringing on Main, Franklin and Maple streets, and the Dayton pike. Eight happy individuals have departed from singleness of life to try the experiment of "trotting in double harness." They are: Henry Weller and Florence Myers, John McCallahan and Mable Webb, Harold Weeks and Jessie Gibbons, Forest Hobbit and Mary Swigart.

A meeting for ball players was called for Monday night, the object being to organize a home team for the coming season.

A shower the night preceding her marriage was given Jessie Gibbons by her many friends at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Patrick Gibbons, on East Franklin street, Tuesday evening. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. J. E Gibbons, Mr. and Mrs. William Spitler, Mr. and Mrs. Walton Spahr, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Peterson, Mr. and Mrs. George Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Gibbons, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Williamson, Dr. and Mrs. Vandeman, John Gibbons, Mrs Anne Gibbons, Mrs. Josephine Gibbons, Mrs. Sudie Glotfelter, Marie Multhup, Grace Griffis, Mary Gibbons, Esther Berryhill, Ruth Gibbons, Katherine Gibbons, Lawrence Brush, Clyde Gibbons, Wilfred Gibbons and Harold Weeks.

Oliver Whitson of Xenia, was in the village Monday handing out white cards that announced his candidacy for county commissioner, subject to the August primary election.

Strawberry Tarts Tea

Dinner.
Grapefruit
Baked Fish Tomato Sauce
New Potatoes Peas

Sliced Pineapple Cocoa

TESTED RECIPES.

Chile Con Carne—Four slices of bacon cut into small pieces and fried, one red pepper, one green pepper, four large onions chopped and cook with bacon. Next add one pound round steak (ground). Cook well. Add one can kidney beans and one can tomatoes and cook thirty minutes. Season to taste and add a dash of red pepper.

Cottage Cheese Custard Pie.—Rub one cup rather dry cottage cheese (not very sour) in a bowl with a fork until well separated. Make a custard of one small cup sugar, two cups sweet milk and two well beaten eggs. Add to this the cheese. Flavor with vanilla or lemon or grate the rind of half a lemon into the custard. Bake slowly in crust-lined pan until custard is set in the middle.

Pie Crust—For one pie—it is called 1-2-3: One cup flour, little salt, two tablespoons lard worked into flour, three tablespoons water. Mix in order given.

Cream Puffs—One cup boiling water and one-half cup butter substitute. Boil together and while boiling stir in one cup sifted flour. Stir constantly. Remove from fire and stir till smooth paste is formed. Let cool.

Beat in three eggs separately, one at a time. Be sure it is smooth before adding each egg. Drop on greased pan, leaving plenty of room between each one, using teaspoon. Bake twenty-five minutes in slow oven.

Recipe makes twelve.

White Cake—One cup sugar, one-half cup butter, one-half cup milk, two scant cups flour, one teaspoon baking powder, whites of four eggs beaten stiff, one teaspoon lemon extract.

This makes a large loaf and should be baked in a moderate oven.

DISCOVERIES.

To Clean White Enameled Woodwork—To a quart of equal parts lukewarm water and skimmed milk add one tablespoon of coaloil. This cleans white enamel with little rubbing and without injury to the gloss.

To Keep the Coffee Pot Warm for later members of the family without spoiling the taste of the coffee.—This is the way to do it: The first one makes it; when finished take out the little aluminum strainer containing the grounds and set the pot on the teakettle over boiling water. When the lid is removed the coffee pot should just fit in the teakettle, so it is just as though the coffee were kept in a double boiler. It is just as good two hours after as when at first made.

Two-Minute Cold Starch—Take a fruit can (one that is nicked will do), one tablespoon starch, one tablespoon borax, one teaspoon turpentine.

Fill the can with cold water. When all dissolved stir and take what will be needed for your skirts or whatever you have. Dip two times.

Put starch you have left back in the can. Put cover on can and set away until needed again.

"JUST A GIRL"
BY JANE PHELPS

JUST A GIRL
A SHOP GIRL
CHAPTER 45

I had had my trunk brought to Mrs. Lynch's. I saw no prospect that I should be able to pay more for a room—if I could pay what she asked, I would be thankful. So I spent the evening getting ready for the morning.

I found some sheer linen collars and cuffs in the trunk, plainly hemstitched.. They would do nicely, I thought, as I basted them in the dress—that they cost more than I could earn in a week's hard work, never occurred to me, or that the other girls, as well as my customers, would know that they did.

One article of my wardrobe worried me—shoes. All my footwear had been of the smartest kind. High heels were not comfortable either to stand in all day, or to walk in, as I had learned. I made up my mind to be very economical until I could purchase a pair of more comfortable shoes—altho I had noticed that most of the young shop girls wore high heels.

I reported for duty promptly the next morning. That I could do any way, I thought when a feeling of incompetency came over me. I could be prompt and faithful. I would try so hard to please that they would be patient with me.

"Git onto the new girl!" I heard one of the clerks at the counter with me say to another. "Why don't she comb her hair?"

I had worn my hair as I always had, as Dad liked it—drawn softly back from my face and twisted in a knot low in my neck. I had quantities of dark brown hair which waved naturally.

"Don't she look old-timey tho?" the one addressed answered. "She won't be here long before she'll catch on. Guess she's from the country." Then the befrizzled girl turned to wait upon a customer.

I felt my cheeks burn, yet couldn't help smiling. They thought me from the country! Well, I almost felt that New York was another, a foreign country. What difference did their remarks make to me? That they would make a great difference, I never dreamed. Or that one poor wage-earner had it in her power to make another poor wage earner so utterly miserable as those two girls made me.

The waists were all marked in plain figures. The sizes were supposed to be also. Yet often they were not marked correctly and I would come in for a terrible talking to from some doughty customer who had bought one, only to find it was either too large or too small.

The jam about the counter was something dreadful. The women would try on the waists, expecting us to help them, watch their bags, and coats, etc. We had no time to do this, as women were eagerly waiting their turn, and the number of waists we sold meant a better standing with the floor walkers, and with the manager of the department.

Sometimes the waists were torn in the women's endeavor to pull them from each other. At night if torn ones were found, it worked against us. We should watch our stock more carefully, they said.

"It's that new girl? She don't know how to handle them," I overheard one of the girls, Maud Wakefield, tell the manager.

"She looks like a nice girl."

"She's nice all right! Too nice. Have you noticed the kind of clothes she wears? Gee, I'd like a set of collar and cuffs like she wears to work, for my best. It would take a week's wages to earn them."

The manager made no reply, but the next time she came to the counter, I felt her sharp eyes were taking in every detail of my appearance. She said nothing, but I had caught an ominous glitter in her eyes that frightened me.

It was a day or two before she spoke to me.

"Come to my office at noon, Miss Stewart," she said and passed on.

"I'll bet the new girl is going to be bounced." Maud told her chum.

"Why?"

"Miss Marvin just told her to come to her office. You know what that means."

Tomorrow—Circumstantial Evidence.
